Accelerating Team Performance with RAPID TEAMING

For Business and HR Leaders

What if your teams could perform like they've worked together for years in just days? Unlock the science and strategy behind Rapid Teaming to accelerate trust, alignment, and results - fast

AN OPPORTUNITY TO INTERACT AND LEARN FROM DR DAVID CLUTTERBUCK, IN INDIA ON 24th-25th JULY, 2025

What is it all about?

In today's fast-changing organisations, it's increasingly common to be a member of multiple teams. Teams can also have a relatively short life – set up to tackle a specific issue and dissolving soon after, when the task is done. In this environment, teaming has become a core skill. Teaming is the ability instantly to form a team. It requires a special set of skills and behaviours that relate to achieving rapidly:

- Clarity of team purpose and each member's role
- Clarity of ways of working, team norms and team values
- High levels of psychological safety
- High levels of creativity, focused energy and motivation
- Intense collective learning

This programme is aimed at leaders, whose roles require them to join or form other teams frequently. It aims to equip them with tools, techniques and skills to manage both their own integration into a team and to support the whole team in rapid transition to high performance.

Who is it for?

Business Leaders

HR Leaders,
OD Professionals,
& People Managers

The Workshop Is Delivered As Four Sections:

01 : How high performing teams form and evolve.
In this module, we explore the latest research and practice around team formation and development; and the role that team norms play in supporting or hindering performance. We take the perspective of both the team leader and the team members to identify pragmatic ways to speed up the processes of team formation.

02 : Building Psychological Safety
This module focuses on creating the environment, in which people can build trust and collaboration rapidly.

03 : Managing Self
This module focuses on how to develop the skills to adapt swiftly to a new team environment and to juggle with xultiple team memberships.

04 : Team Processes
How to make them faster and more effective. This module looks at creating a rapid learning culture and explores the concept of teams of teams.

What you will learn:

At the end of this workshop you will:

- Be confident in joining and immediately contributing to other teams.
- Have a wide portfolio of practical tools and techniques for effective teaming.
- Know how to enable a new team or project team to “hit the ground running” .
